Murder at Louisville—Remarkable Detection of the Murderer—He is Recognized by the Flash of His Pistol.

[From the Louisville Journal, April 4.]

In our issue of yesterday morning we gave the full particulars of the cold blooded assassination of the old man, John Collins, in his doorway, near the corner of Eighteenth street and Broadway, at about eight o'clock on Tuesday night. We knew at the time of writing our former article who was suspected of perpetrating the fiendish deed but withheld the name at the request of the police authorities, who did not wish it known that suspicion rested upon him, and who rightly conjectured that he thought he had sufficiently covered his tracks behind him, and would therefore not seek to fly the city.

THE TRIAL OF THE MURDERER.

About one hundred yards below Collins, house the murderer hitched his horse, upon soft, unpaved ground, where the tracks were distinctly visible next morning. Those tracks revealed the fact that the horse had one bare foot, and but half a shoe upon and other foot. A man's tracks were also discovered, which revealed another fact, i. e., that some one went from and returned to the house in his stocking feet. Thus, one fact was certainly and undeniably established. The murderer had ridden to the vicinity of his victim's house, had removed his shoes in order that his footsteps might give out no echo, had stolen to a favorable point unheard, murdered his man, returned to his animal, and fled out of the neighborhood.

THE MURDERER RECOGNIZED.

But there was one who was fortunately so situated that, by the flash of the powder, when the weapon was discharged, she saw and recognized the features of the murderer. His name is Sheppard—John Sheppard—and is a brother-in-law of the deceased. She saw him come down upon the opposite side of the street, saw him step into the middle of the street, saw him fire upon deceased, saw and recognized his features by the flash, and saw him run off immediately upon discharging his weapon.

WHO HE IS—HIS RELATIONS WITH HIS VICTIM.

John Sheppard, more familiarly known as Jack Sheppard, came to this city from Pittsburgh about twelve years ago. He had no property upon his arrival, but in the course of a year or two he married either a sister of Collins or his wife, who was possessed of some money, with which he established a coffee-house, cock-pit, &c., on Main street, at or near the corner of Preston. Some few weeks ago his wife was compelled, from some cause to us unknown, to separate from him. She has since been making her home at the house of Collins.

Some two weeks prior to the murder the accused introduced himself into the house of deceased and abused him in almost every manner hatred could suggest. About the same time he was heard to make the significant threat: "I will riddle him (deceased) if I can get him out—I'll be revenged!"

PUTTING THIS AND THAT TOGETHER.

We have alluded, in another part of this article, to the fact that the horse that was hitched near the scene of the murder had one bare foot and half a shoe upon the other. On examination it was found that the feet of Sheppard's horse were in such condition. Tracks made by a man in his stocking feet were also discovered near Collin's house. When arrested, Sheppard's socks were found to be muddy. As it is a long distance from Preston street to Eighteenth, the inference is natural that he had ridden down for the purpose of making quick time back, in order, when the news of the murder would be spread abroad, that he might, by being at home so early after the hour at which the murder had been committed, create the impression that it was impossible for him to have committed the deed, and thereby establish an alibi.

THE ARREST.

Sheppard was arrested at his house about one o'clock yesterday morning by officers Harry Kirby, John Rogers, Tom Antle, Jake Kaye and John Slater. He was presented in the City Court yesterday morning, but his examining trial was postponed until Friday morning.

Drugging with Alcohol.

The Buffalo Express has a protest from Dr. E. R. Gregg, of that city, against "the too common" custom of physicians prescribing ardent "spirits for medical purposes." Of this custom, he says:

"I have always, since I entered upon the practice of medicine, protested against it as both a physical evil to the patient and a great moral wrong, creating appetites which were certain to carry many victims to a drunkard's grave.

"To say nothing of the moral issues at stake, I have thought, and still think, there are the strongest possible reasons to be found, both in pathology and physiology, for condemning this practice. I have only time now to mention one among many of these; but that one, it appears to me, shows the absurdity of the position occupied by the profession upon this subject. That reason is as follows: All must know that whisky is almost universally prescribed in consumption, by the great majority of physicians of whatever school; yet who does not know that wounds and ulcers upon drunkards are far more difficult to heal than they are upon those who are temperate. Then how can it be possible that whisky can have or excite a healing action upon ulcers in such delicate tissues as those of the lungs, especially when all of this that is taken into the stomach must first go to and through the lungs before it is distributed over the system! And how whisky or its equivalent can have a healing affect in convalescence from any disease, when its direct action in the same quantity greatly retards the reparative processes of Nature, surpasses my comprehension. When seen in its true light, the whole theory of benefit from such agents is too absurd to be tolerated. And a little reflection must satisfy all intelligent people how difficult it will be to have a lasting benefit wrought by the temperance cause, until this root, among others which sustain intemperance, is reached and destroyed."

John Bright and the Tories—He Charges the Ministry With Deception.

In the debate on the Reform bill in the British House of Commons, on the evening of the 26th of March, John Bright took an active part, and at the close of a long and able speech thus exposed the duplicity of the Ministry:

"I tell the House frankly, and the Chancellor of the Exchequer will believe me when I say that there is not a man in the House who would be more glad to give his warmest support—whatever it might be worth—to a fair and honest measure on this question. I regret what honorable gentlemen opposite, led by the Chancellor of the Exchequer, did last year. I shall never cease to regret it or to blame them; but still I would help any Government to bring this question to a just conclusion. But, sir, it seems to me impossible to assist a Government which will not tell us frankly what it intends, what it stands by, and what it will get rid of—which invites us to come into its confidence, and yet is the most reticent Government that probably ever sat on those benches. [Cheers and laughter.] If honorable gentlemen on this side were to treat you as you treated us last year, I would denounce them in the strongest language that I could use. I hate the ways and I scorn the purpose of faction [loud, ironical cheers], and if I am driven now or at any stage of this bill to oppose the Government, it is because the measure they have offered us bears upon its face the marks of deception and disappointment, and because I will be no party to any measure which shall cheat the great body of my countrymen of that position and that power in this House on which they have set their hearts, and which, as I believe, by the Constitution of this country, they may most justly claim. [Loud cheering.]

Death from Hydrophobia.

A most distressing case of this terrible disease occurred on Friday last, at Glasgow, Mo., resulting in the death of a young man eighteen years of age, named Noah Stapleton. He died at the residence of Mr. W. M. Maupin, five miles from Glasgow, in Howard county, where he had been boarding and attending school. On the 7th of December last he was bitten on the right hand by a rabid dog, after which he was under treatment of physicians, who cauterized the wound and made such applications as tended to allay inflamation, after which a mad-stone (the property Mr. James Hackley) was applied and remained on the wound forty days, when it dropped off. No particular alarm was felt for his safety after this, as it was thought the precautions taken had dispelled all danger of hydrophobia. On last Wednesday week, however, decided symptoms were manifested in his aversion to all fluids, he having suffered the day previous with a severe headache. Physicians were called. The symptoms gradually became more and more alarming, till raving madness ensued. He manifested no animosity to any one, and seemed to partially recognize his friends to near the time of his death; but there seemed a terrible desire to do violence to himself—to tear his bosom open. Several times he essayed to take some soup, knowing his need of nourishment; but each effort was broken off with a shudder and facial contortions horrible to witness. The wildness of his behavior is described as frightful in the extreme. In some brief intervals of his madness, however, he manifested the same gentleness and kind-heartedness that had ever been characteristic of him. Thursday night, an emetic was administered, which allayed the paroxysms, to a great extent; but from the prostration that ensued he never revived, and gradually becoming calm, he sunk into death.

WITHIN the last few years, Boston and the towns in its immediate vicinity, all within a radius of fourteen miles, have lost thirty-five churches by fire, and so great has the risk become on this class of property that some of the best insurance offices decline to issue policies on churches. Some of the fires have been the work of incendiaries and more the carelessness of the persons having the buildings in charge.

Georgia Next Applies.

CONCERNING DISABLED SOLDIERS.

Three National Asylums.

SERIOUS GAS EXPLOSION.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, April 12, 1867

MISSISSIPPI INJUNCTION CASE.

The Supreme Court room was densely crowded to-day. All the Judges were present. The Mississippi injunction case was before the Court. On a motion to file the bill, Attorney General Stansberry made a lengthy argument in opposition to the motion, denying the original jurisdiction of the Court, and Robert J. Walker spoke in its support.

ANOTHER INJUNCTION CASE.

On the conclusion of the argument in the case, Charles O'Connor moved for leave to file the bill in the Georgia case. The Chief Justice said the Court would take the motion under advisement, and if further argument was desired the counsel would be notified.

DISABLED SOLDIERS' ASYLUMS.

The Board of Managers of the National Asylum for disabled soldiers met to-day. The old officers were re-elected. Reports were received showing the donation of the Soldiers' Home, near Columbus, by the Legislature, to the National Asylum, and the purchase of a site and building near Milwaukee, Wis. Three asylums will hereafter be opened to all disabled volunteer soldiers. Nearly one thousand such were cared for, or assisted, by the National Asylum within the last quarter. A committee was appointed to issue proposals for the new building at Milwaukee and select either White Sulphur Springs, or Dayton, for the location of the new asylum in Ohio. An Executive Committee to take charge of the asylum and to administer out-door relief was appointed for the year, consisting of General Butler, Governor Smyth, Mr. Gunckee and General Mortindale.

The reports show the number of disabled soldiers having neither money, homes, nor friends, is much larger than supposed, but the board are determined to make full and ample provisions for all. A fund estimated a $5,000,000 placed, by Congress in their hands for this purpose, will enable them to do this work fully and well.

GAS EXPLOSION—THREE CLERKS INJURED.

Three clerks at the city postoffice were injured this morning by an explosion of gas in a room of the Postoffice Building, in which gas is made by a patent apparatus. Their names are James A. Kennedy, H. H. Doubleday and L. B. Moses; the latter perhaps mortally. They carried a light into the room to find the cause of an obstruction to the machinery.

NOMINATIONS CONFIRMED AND REJECTED.

The Senate confirmed the nomination of Samuel W. Smith, as Postmaster at Seymour, Md.

The following were rejected: Assessor of Internal Revenue—Edmund Hostetter, Second District, Indiana; Receiver of Public Moneys—David Ryan, Menosha, Wisconsin; F. Bowton, Booneville, Mo.; Surveyor of Customs—John King; St. Louis, Mo.; Postmasters—Newton Baldwin, Owaso, Mich.; Hunter Brooke, Cincinnati, Ohio.; Curtis B. Stone, Wankeson, Ill.

THE STATE OF NEBRASKA.

The authorities of Nebraska having been presented to the interior department, the question was raised whether the lands granted to the State under the enabling act of the 19th of April, 1864, should be dedicated from the lands granted under the act of the 6th of September, 1841, granting each new State, 500,000 acres of land for the purpose of internal improvements. The Secretary of the Interior decided the grant of 1864, should not be dedicated from that of 1841, but that the State was entitled to the quantity under each grant.

INDIAN LAND SALES.

The Commissioner of the General Land Office has transmitted to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, for delivery to parties entitled to receive the same, eighteen patents covering 1,687 acres for Kansas trust lands in the State of Kansas, being sales of Indian lands under the act of October 4th, '59.

From Mexico it is reported that Puebla has been captured by the Liberals. A correspondent, writing on the 5th ult., thinks it impossible that Vera Cruz can be taken by assault, so well is the city defended by walls and forts mounted with heavy guns. The anti-Tammany Hall Democratic organization in New York City, refused admission to the Albany Convention on Wednesday, held a meeting on Thursday to consider what action was necessary to gain proper representation at the coming convention, and a resolution was adopted expressing the determination to oppose all candidates elected by the Tammany "ring," and to reject all proffers of compromise or affiliation with that organization. Conventions were appointed to meet in Senatorial districts on Monday evening next.

The Union League at Washington city was addressed by Senator Sherman on Thursday evening, upon the questions of the day. Referring to the action of Congress, he said if the councils of President Johnson had been yielded to the rebellion would have continued and a desolating war progressing at this time. It was necessary, therefore, to re-organize society at the South. He had received a letter from Governor Brown, of Georgia, stating that reconstruction was going on rapidly, and that the measures proposed by Congress would soon be acquiesced in.

The three cases were tried together, Judge Shannon appearing as counsel for the defense in the first two cases and for the prosecution in the third; John Mellon and William Owens, Esqs., were counsel for Dobson, prosecutor in the assault and battery cases and defendant in the riot case. Dobson had the "first swear." He stated that, on the 16th of January, he went with Drusadow and another person to the tavern kept by Hilkey, at Woods Run, Drusadow's object being to inquire of Hilkey whether he had made the allegation that he (Drusadow) had broken windows in the house on the evening before, and witness going along to hear what was said. Hilkey denied having made the allegation on his own responsibility, but gave as his authority another person. Some further words passed, when all the persons in the tavern, except those who boarded there, were ordered to leave. Dobson said that Hilkey caught him by the neck at the door, and that afterwards he (Dobson) was struck on the head and severely bruised with a poker; he could not say who struck him, the blows being given from behind. It appeared beyond doubt that Dobson had been very roughly used by some person, and there was some evidence that the parties charged were responsible for the violence. Hilkey, the tavern keeper, gave "the other side." The persons present in the bar room, including those indicted for riot, began disputing, when witness ordered all to retire except "boarders." Dobson replied that it was a public house and they had a right to remain as long as they chose. Hilkey took hold of him to put him out, Dobson resisting by striking a blow. McCormick punched Hilkey in the side, and Drusadow also offered violence and was disorderly. Hilky did not see any blows struck, owing to the confusion, but after the row was over the defendants Croll and Cross did not deny having struck the blows. Hilkey said he ordered the party out three times. Dobson was the first to refuse and struck the first blow. Mrs. Hilkey testified that after being put out of the house Dobson returned and struck her twice, when the defendants Croll and Cross came to her assistance, and it would seem they were the parties who paid Dawson such "severe attention." Drusadow, at this time, whilst Mrs. Hilkey was essaying to protect her husband, attempted to pull her out of the door, and she screamed for help. When this was occurring Hilkey was engaged with McComick. The case was submitted by counsel without argument, and under the charge of the Court the jury found a verdict of "not guilty" in the cases of the Commonwealth vs. Michael Croll and Charles Cross, prosecutor Dobson to pay the costs, and in the case of the Commonwealth vs Rudolph Drusadow, William Dobson and Thomas McCormick, they found Drusadow "not guilty," and McCormick and Dobson "guilty of assault and battery." Sentence deferred.

JURY DISCHARGED.

The termination of the case last reported ended jury trials for the March term. The jury in attendence, the third panel, were discharged, with the thanks of the Court for their prompt attention to their duties.

Court adjourned till this (Saturday) morning at ten o'clock.

Common Pleas Court.

Before Hon. Thomas Mellon.

James Haward vs. Owners of steamer Little Hawkeye. Plaintiff contracted with defendants to tow a flat laden with coal to Oil City. On the way the flat was sunk and the coal lost, and the suit was brought to recover its value. Defendants alleged the accident which caused the sinking was unavoidable, and not result of negligence or carelessness on their part. The jury found in favor of the plaintiff for the sum of $..., the full amount claimed.

John Y. Smith & Co. vs. Charles A. Hardy. Plaintiffs sold to defendant a patent automatic oil well boring machine, guaranteeing it to work well and give complete satisfaction. The contract price was $2,500. Defendant paid $1,500 in cash, agreeing to pay the remainder when the machine should have bored successfully to the depth of fifty feet. After experimenting for some time with the apparatus, defendant pronounced it a failure, not as good as common well boring machines. Therefore he refused to pay the $1,000 claimed as the balance of the purchase money, whereupon plaintiffs brought suit. Defendant averred that he was not indebted to plaintiffs, but that he actually sustained losses to the amount of $5,600 by the failure of the apparatus. On trial at adjournment.

District Court.

Before Hon. H. W. Williams.

Harriet E. Dunn vs. Robert Morrow, administrator of John Neel, dec'd. Before reported. Verdict for plaintiff for the sum of $458.25.

Victoria Stoner vs. J. C. Bindley. Parties are owners of adjoining lots, on Second street, in the city. Wishing to excavate a cellar on his lot below the foundation of the house of the plaintiff, defendant agreed with her to do the work with the greatest skill and care and to underpin the wall with stone piers to prevent the building being cracked or injured—she agreeing to pay two-thirds of the cost for underpinning. Plaintiff alleges the work was executed in such a careless and unskilful manner that the wall of the house sunk, was badly cracked, and otherwise damaged to the amount of $2,000 On trial at adjournment.

Another Cure of Consumption

STATEMENT OF JOHN G. WHIGHAM OF TURTLE CREEK, ALLEGHENY COUNTY.

I was discharged from the United States army in January, 1865, on account of a wound in the head, from a shell, and a disease which the army physician pronounced CONSUMPTION. I had a terrible cough and fell away in strength and flesh and was unable to do anything. Shortly after my return from the army, I made application to a physician of my neighborhood and, afterwards, to another in Pittsburgh of high reputation, whose remedies I used faithfully for five months, without any benefit whatever, but rather grew worse, and wasted in flesh and strength every day. In August, 1865, my mother took me to DOCTOR KEYSER, of 120 Penn street, whose skill in lung cases like mine had been highly spoken of, and put myself under his treatment. The doctor examined my lungs very carefully with his LUNG SOUND, and told me that my left lung was badly diseased at the upper part, but if I was careful he thought he could cure me by following his directions closely, which I did from that day to this. I gradually improved under Dr. Keyser's medicines from the first week I commenced to take them, and my general health has improved, and my chest, where it was sunken away, and where it pained me, has become full and strong and free from pain. I can now do a full day's work, and take great pleasure in giving my testimony in favor of Dr. Keyser's treatment and medicines.

JOHN G. WHIGHAM,
Turtle Creek,

PITTSBURGH, April 11th, 1867.

Larceny as Bailee.—Maria Zeigler appeared before Alderman Johns yesterday, and preferred the above charge against a man in Birmingham. It is alleged that the accused obtained from the deponent a gold ring valued at twelve dollars, and has since refused and failed to return the same, and hence the suit. A warrant was issued.

A Friend of Diseased Humanity.

We cheerfully make room for the following communication which pays a deserved tribute to a medical gentleman whose fame and ability is known throughout the country. We heartily endorse the writer in admiration of the subject.

[COMMUNICATED.]

It must be truly gratifying to every individual having the well being of mankind at heart, to know that there are still true, noble and great minds striving to solve the deep-hidden mysteries of human life, and exerting their utmost powers to ameliorate the sufferings consequent upon sickness and disease.

This is manifest, from what the great wheel of progress brings to light from day to day, through the elaborate treatises of some of our most able medical men; not only in regard to drainage, sewerage, garbage, the purity of drinks, &c., but in regard to the compounding and preparing in a scientific manner the remedies necessary to special cases and the cure of special diseases, such as consumption, scrofula, &c.; which have so long been the problem of medical science.

It does the heart of a philanthropist good to see the energy of such men, thus endeavoring by patient investigation and research to add fresh and glorious laurels to the great temple of that science, which it is charged has not kept pace with the other learned sciences.

Without disparaging, in the least, the others who have thus been contributing, each in his own way, learned essays to the grand object of the amelioration of human woe, we would mention one whom we have known long and well, hoping he will pardon us, however, for the intrusion of his name in this otherwise general communication. It is Dr. Geo. H Keyser. Years ago he entered into the regular study of the healing art, under the tuition of a celebrated physician in the east. After years of laborious study in the office, he visited the Medical Emporium of the United States and entered the Jefferson Medical College where he regularly and assiduously attended the lectures of the then already celebrated Professors Dunglinson, Bache, Meigs, Mutter, Pancoast, Mitchell and Houston; and learned from them the healing art, as taught in its greatest perfection in that day. This was in the year 1843. He then returned home and settled down in the practice of medicine, but by no means was he settled down in its study, but he continued his researches in that line, determined not only that not one sacred pearl of medical truth should escape his notice or be lost to his memory, but that he would climb to eminence and renown if possible, by his efforts in the progressive development and unfoldment of its great principles.

With this great end in view, he at a later day and after a number of years practice, is found again at the great medical emporium, attending another full course of lectures, at the no less regularly chartered but progressive College of Medicine, the "Philadelphia University of Medicine and Surgery; thus showing his willingness to seize upon truth wherever found, on christian or on heathen ground."

With a mind thus open to truth, and disposition to thus scan every department of Medical Science; was it any wonder that he should inquire, "why is it that our country is so flooded with useless nostrums? Or that he would seek to satisfy this seeming want by supplying its place with the more scientific compounds of Blood Searcher, Pectoral, Lung cure, &c.

These are but the results of the prolific brain of a scientific man, brought about by the life-long study of a subject suggested by the lost confidence of the people in medical science.

Had the medical skill of the general practitioner maintained the confidence of the community, no patent nostrums would be gulped down to-day; nor would "Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher," "Lung Cure," or "Pectoral Syrup," be found exceeding in efficiency as they are now doing the skill and success of so many of the practising physicians of the country.

Let the great work of elucidating medical subjects and medical science go on, each medical man to strive to bring his own specialty to the utmost perfection, and confidence in medical science will soon be restored, and all scientific compounds will readily find their way into prescriptions of the day, as they ought. VERITAS.

The Speaker Elect of the Senate.

In noticing the election of Senator Graham to the Speakership of the Senate, the Harrisburg Telegraph chooses to pay him the following handsome tribute:

"We announced yesterday that a caucus of Republican Senators had decided on Senator Graham, of Allegheny, for Speaker. He was elected to-day. This is a compliment worthily bestowed. Mr. Graham has, by the purity of his life, by his courtous and gentlemanly bearing, by his strict and conscientious attention to business, by his practical good sense, won the confidence and esteem of every member of the Senate. Modest almost to timidity, he never utters a single word for buncombe; makes no effort to get upon the Record; never speaks unless there is a necessity for it, but when he does, speaks earnestly and fluently, always commanding the attention and respect of the Senate. The elevation of Mr. Graham to the Speakership of the Senate of Pennsylvania without solicitation on his part, is an evidence that a quiet, earnest, honest man, whose character is above suspicion and reproach, can and will be appreciated in public life. We congratulate Senator Graham on his election, and his constituents in having such a man to represent them."

"Death from Apoplexy."

Such was the verdict of the Coroner's jury after holding an inquest on the body of James W. Algeo, on Friday forenoon. Deceased, a resident of the city, had for some time past been intemperate in his habits, and on Thursday afternoon went to the "Pittsburgh House," in the Diamond, in an intoxicated state. In the evening he was discovered by the bar-keeper to have fallen back in his chair, with his head bent over his breast, and breathing heavily. Dr. G. L. M'Cook being summoned, said the man was laboring under an attack of apoplexy, and paralization had so far progressed that death would ensue. He expired at 1 o'clock Friday morning, having remained all the while in a state of insensibility. Deceased was about thirty-five years of age and unmarried. He served in the army, enlisting as a private in Company I, 109th Pennsylvania Volunteers, was promoted to a Lieutenancy, and received a wound which rendered him a cripple.

Violated Confidence.

A young lady named Grace Matthews, who resides on River avenue, Fourth ward, Allegheny, appeared before Alderman Mullen yesterday, and lodged an information against Archibald Glass for affiliation. The prosecutrix states that the youthful Archibald has been paying gallant attentions to her for something over a year. He at length gained her confidence and in an unfortunate hour of weakness she fell a victim to his wiles. He at first promised to marry her, thereby making all the reparation in his power, but other counsels prevailed, and in an interview held between the parties, on Wednesday, he utterly refused to fulfil his promise, telling her to do her worst as he would as soon be in the penitentiary as not. This recklessness caused the young lady to prosecute, and the consequence was that Archibald was arrested yesterday and made to give bail in $600 for his appearance at court to answer the charge.

Officers Held to Bail.

On Sunday morning last night watchmen James Eagan and George Towers arrested a member of the Mayor's special police force named Edward Owens, on Washington street, charging him with attempting to force, his way into the residence of a lady, living in that locality, at an unusual hour. Monday morning Owens had a hearing before the Mayor, which resulted in his being discharged from the force, and made to pay fine of $20 for disorderly conduct. The dismissed officer, feeling himself aggrieved, appeared before Alderman Donaldson, and made oath against Eagan and Towers for assault and battery and illegal arrest. There was a hearing had in the case last night, at which evidence was given vindicating officer Owens, and the accused were made to give bail in the sum of $500 for their appearance at the next session of the Criminal Court.

Dr. Robert Hunter.

This eminent physician, who has been so journing for a number of weeks in our midst, announces that his visit will be brought to a close on the 27th inst. Dr. Hunter is a gentlemen of thorough practice and skill, and deservedly occupies a front place in the medical profession of the world. He has made the diseases of the throat and lungs a specialty, and upon those particular organs is regarded as the highest authority upon both continents. He has been very successful since his advent into the city, and will be followed with the gratitude of hundreds whom he has grasped from the jaws of death and restored to perfect health. As an author Dr. Hunter stands equally well amongst the literati, and his essays upon pulmonary diseases have already entered into the literature of England and America. The suffering should lose no time in consulting the learned doctor, as perhaps no similar opportunity will be offered for a long time to secure the advice of such an universally recognized physician. He remains at the Merchants Hotel.

The Soldiers' League Library.

The formal opening of the Library of the Allegheny Soldiers' League, took place in Malta Hall, Federal street, Allegheny City, last evening, as per announcement. Callow, President of the Soldiers' League, delegated Col. D. H. Williams to state the object of the establishment to the Library, which Col. W. did. Col. R. Biddle Roberts, Col. J. B. Clark, Col. D. Charged With Theft.—John Patterson, a colored individual, was arrested yesterday and brought before Mayor Morrison, charged with the larceny of $13 from another son of Afric's sunny clime, named John Dinsmore. The parties had been boarding at the house of Mrs. Reed, on Federal street, Allegheny, occupying the same room. In this chamber Dinsmore had a trunk containing the sum mentioned above, which he alleges was abstracted by Patterson, the lid of the trunk having first been pryed open. The accused had a hearing, which terminated in his being committed to jail, to which institution he was conveyed by officer Campbell.

Fiendish.—Margaret McAdams was before Alderman McMullen, yesterday, charged, on oath of Nancy Thompson, with having wickedly and maliciously poked a stick in the mouth of a little daughter of the prosecutrix, thereby inflicting a very painful wound. If the deposition of Mrs. Thompson is worthy of belief, the act was one of fiendish cruelty and merits the severest censure of all well meaning people and the utmost rigor of the law. After a partial hearing the accused was forced to furnish bail in the sum of $300 for a final hearing on Saturday.

Quoits—Clubs in New York and Vicinity—Their Playgrounds—Preparations for the Season, &c., &c., &c.

Quoit playing has undoubtedly become one of the recognized summer sports with American athletes. A few years since the game was only known and played by a few Scotch or English residents in the country; more recently the game has been encouraged and patronized by almost all classes who take a delight in out-door pastimes. The game, itself, is of ancient origin, and in days of yore, wherever field sports were recognized on the European continent, the wonten devotions were incomplete without a quoit ground. Every public and private playground had its quoiting club, and even the roadside hotels had their rival associations, who often met in friendly contests for the championship among the rural portion of different districts. Thus, with constant practice and rival matches, the game reached quite a scientific position.

With the decline of bowling saloons, or "nine" and "ten" pins, the game of quoits superseded, as more in keeping with the tastes of the devotees to healthful recreation and exercise. It did away with the spirit of gambling, and the unnecessary expense which the former entailed; while the latter is for amusement only, and the great beneficial advantage of being played in the open air. Last year a number of club matches were played in this city, Brooklyn, Newark, Philadelphia, and elsewhere, which gave to the game a popularity heretofore unknown. Also championship matches by the leading player of one State against one similarly "pitted" from another State, hence the games were denominated matches for the championship of America. Mr. Wm. Hodgson, of Philadelphia, at present holds the proud title.

SATURDAY, APRIL 13, 1867.

WE HAVE heretofore adverted to the zeal with which democrats, North and South, whose common sense has not been submerged and drowned out, by passion and prejudice, have set to work "courting the blacks." Among those most conspicuous in this labor are not a few who were efficient in past years in stirring up fiendish malignities against the colored race. They were not sincere then. They possessed too much sense to believe the stupidities they inculcated, and too much stoicism and self-control to be swayed by the turbulent hatreds they endeavored to excite in others. Nor are they a whit more sincere now. Indeed, were they to speak truly they would confess to despising all profound connections on public questions, viewing politics only a game, to be played to the best advantage with the material in hand.

So long as they could keep away from the ballot-box four millions of people, whose votes, if they became voters, they had small expectation of getting, they did not hesitate to repudiate all the inherent and vital principles of democracy; to pour unmeasured contempt thereon; to scoff and jeer at the suggestion of universal suffrage; and to build up and maintain a structure of caste and exclusiveness. But when those four millions of people, in spite of scorn and vituperation, had acquired the ballot, these democratic leaders, swiftly perceived they had either to turn square about, eat the curses and objurations they had uttered, learn a new speech, and practice the same arts on the blacks they had expended on the lowest classes of the whites, and succeed therein, or else retire permanently from potential political management. It did not take them long to choose. "Necessity is the mother of invention," though not unfrequently she has sore need to be ashamed of her offspring, particularly in cases of this sort. The courting process was promptly resolved upon, and sedulously followed. Never were ugly spinsters, with plethoric purses, more extravagantly dunned with compliments by northern roues or bankrupt spendthrifts. It has been noticed often, on the eve of an election, with what ease a crowd of tatterdemalion whites are transformed, by the alchemy of heated eloquence, into a band of devoted and erudite patriots; but it has been supposed that no resource of art, and no imminence of occasion, yielded even to democratic enchanters the power to change millions of blacks, offensive through traditional odor, into "respected fellow citizens." This crowning feat of necromancy has been accomplished.

It remains to be seen what the democrats will gain for all their pains. So far the promise is not flattering. The blacks are disclosing more penetration than the demagogues suspected them of having. They know their friends. If the question is raised whether they come by this knowledge through the deductions of reason or the instinct of feeling, all we have to say is, it does not matter in the least. Some men get at results in one way and some in another. In matters of this descriptions the only thing of importance is to arrive at just conclusions. Not unfrequently, in all races, the sentiments are safer guides than the intelligence. The present look is that, the "courting" process, while it may be agreeable as an amusement, will not pay as an investment, for the democracy.

PENNSYLVANIA naturally divides into two sections, the Allegheny mountains forming the dividing line. In the Eastern section the Democrats are in the ascendency; in the Western section, the Republicans. Whatever Republican majority exists in the State, on a General Ticket, the west has to furnish. It would naturally be expected that in the distribution of honors the section that furnished the strength to keep the party in power would not be essentially ignored. The facts do not correspond to this natural expectation. The East has the Governor, the Attorney General, the Auditor General, the Surveyor General, the State Treasurer, the Speaker of the Senate, the Clerks of the two Houses, the Chairmen of all the important Committees and a majority of all the members thereof, four of the five Judges of the Supreme Court, and both the United States Senators. The West has the Secretary of State, the Adjutant General, the Speaker of the House, the Chairmen of a few uninfluential Committees, possibly a majority of the members of two or three of such, and one of the Judges of the Supreme Court.

In order to make this comparison strictly correct, it is proper to say that the new Speaker of the Senate is from the West, but this will be balanced by giving the Speaker of the next House to the East; that one other of the Judges of the Supreme Court was elected from the West, but immediately took up his residence in the East; and that the Secretary's title of State was given to a man who made up his mind to remove from the West, and locate at Harrisburg, in order to resume the practice of his profession as a lawyer, at the bar of that county.

The present arrangement on the part of the managers of the party is that the Supreme Judge to be chosen this year shall be taken from the East, and that the United States Senator to succeed Mr. BUCKALEW shall be taken from the same section.

Do the Republicans of the West understand the meaning of this? "Hewers of wood and drawers of water shall ye be unto your brethren." On the eve of elections much rhetorical laudation shall be lavished upon you; but only as serviceable vassals. Are ye content?

NO GENERAL RAILROAD LAW has been passed. The History stands thus. Upon the introduction of Mr. BIGHAM's bill to the Senate, it went to the Committee on Railroads, of which Mr. GEORGE LANDON, of Bradford, was Chairman. This bill, had it been passed, would have fairly met the public expectation, and redeemed the pledge made by the Republican party in the last State Convention. In the Committee, alterations were fastened upon it, by which it was completely emasculated. These changes were so vital that the bill was actually changed from its original intent of fostering the construction of railroads, into prohibiting all railroad building whatever, in as far as authority could be devised from it. In this form it passed the Senate, only four votes being recorded in the negative. Several sincere friends of Freedom in Railroad building voted for the bill under the mistaken idea that something would be gained by it. This bill did not pass the House. Mr. BIGHAM's bill, as originally introduced by him to the Senate, was brought into the House, and was passed by a handsome majority. It went over to the Senate, and on the last day but one of the session, was rejected by a majority of four.

The result is that no General Railroad Law whatever was passed. The pledge given by the last Republican State Convention was repudiated by its representatives in the Legislature; and it is better thus than that the deceptive and hypocritical bill that went through the Senate should have become a law. In that event some Republicans would have been shameless enough to pretend that the promise was kept. Now, even Mr. LANDON, who has talents of the first class, and brass enough to match, will hardly pretend that the party does not stand dishonored. Thoughtful men throughout the Commonwealth hold him to be more deeply culpable for the disgrace than any other man in the Legislature.

◆

THE SESSION OF THE LEGISLATURE just closed will be as memorable for the amount of law-making accomplished, as for the quality of much of it. No less than sixteen hundred bills were passed into laws, a daily average of twenty-six. When the House adjourned some eight hundred bills remained on the calendars in different degress of forwardness. Most of the laws passed—let us be thankful for that—were not of a general character; but relate either to corporations or are of local application. So far as legislation concerns chartered companies, a decided improvement would be to have it accomplished by general laws, and without the intervention of the Assembly. This, however, will not be done until the Constitution shall be revised. Such a change would spoil the craft by which many men thrive; and they will resist it as long as they can. As for the other sort of local laws there is no reason or excuse whatever. What is law in one county or township in respect of schools, roads, and the like, ought to be the law in every other. The endless diversity which exists leads only to perplexity, without any compensating advantages. A Constitutional Constitution, which should make a proper disposition of these two matters, would abridge four-fold the amount of legislation required, and would extirpate most of the corruption which now makes legislation a stench in the nostrils of the people.

◆

BUSINESS in this section is fearfully depressed, owing to the prolongation of the "lockout." Fully eight thousand men continue in want of employment, and millions of dollars have been thrown out of circulation. As yet we see no "beginning of the end." The iron masters declare their inability to pay the labor price demanded, and will make no concessions, while upon the other hand, the workingmen are resolved to stand out so long as actual starvation keeps from their doors. The ultimate result may be the driving away from Pittsburgh of the vast trade in iron and glass which she has, in a great measure, heretofore monopolized. In that event how much good will the present strike have done for the working classes?

◆

THE DEMOCRATS are greatly exercised lest Senator WILSON and the other Apostles of Radicalism who are announced to stump the Southern States, succeed in teaching the negroes the difference 'twixt right and wrong. It remains to be seen whether lessons in democracy by the late slaveholders, or those of radicalism by friends and advocates of universal liberty, will prove most popular with ebony voters.

Our Russian Territory.

Professor Baird of the Smithsonian Institute has collected the following information regarding our recently acquired possesion on the extreme Northern Pacific Coast:

"The Climate and Temperature of the coast from Prince of Wales Island to the entrance of Behring Straits, during the winter months, is about the same as at the City of Washington. There is little snow and much rain. During the summer months heavy fogs prevail.

"Timber.—The whole country, well up to the northern coast, is heavily timbered—chiefly hard pine forests—the small trees extending down to the very shores. Some of the islands, also, are heavily timbered with pine forests and dense undergrowth. Others of them are destitute of timber, but covered with grass of luxuriant growth.

"The Soil.—On the west coast the soil produces excellent barley, and roots such as radishes and turnips, and esculents such as lettuce, cabbage, &c.

"Animals.—Furred animals, such as sea otter, river otter, sable, furred seal, mink; black, silver and red foxes, are found in great numbers; red deer on the south, and reindeer on the north.

"Fish.—Herring, salmon, halibut and codfish abound in exhaustless numbers. In Behring's Straits and to the northward great whales are very numerous."

Mr. Collins, who sought the highest sources of knowledge in regard to the physical and topographical condition of the northwestern limb of our continent, in the course of his investigations to determine the route of the Russian-American Telegraph, says:

"The fisheries along the coast and islands will build up a population and commerce there which at no distant day will rival Newfoundland and the coast of the Atlantic east of Cape Cod. The shoals and banks along the islands of Russian America are the resort of myriads of codfish unsurpassed for size and delicacy. Once give us a lodgment, these fishing towns will soon spring into existence, giving for our Pacific coast a nursery for first class seamen, which, in the growing commerce of the Pacific, will be just what we want there in the future in order to give us the supremacy of that ocean. The fisheries alone are worth more than the whole cost of the country, and will repay us in the future amply for the investment. The immense population of Asia and the islands of the Pacific will be good customers for our surplus fish, and will readily take all we have to spare. Timber for building purposes is abundant and convenient; saw-mills will soon make the lumber trade a source of great profit, not only for domestic use, but for export to Asia and the more southern islands. Boat and ship building can be carried on profitably where good timber is so abundant and easily procured.

"The acquisition is also valuable on account of several deposits of coal along the coast and islands. At Codiac the Russian-American Company have worked a coal vein for some years past, and have used it in their forges and workshops, as well as in their steamers employed in carrying on their commerce with California and Asia.

"Nor is the country to be counted as nothing in an agricultural point of view. Wheat, barley and oats can be produced as far north as sixty degrees; gardens flourish along the coast in the Russian settlements, producing all the vegetables requisite for domestic use.

"It must always be remembered that the Pacific coast is much warmer than the Atlantic coast of equal degrees. The isothermal line of Sitka (New Archangel) is equal to Newfoundland or St. Petersburg. That is about 40 to 45 degrees of Fahrenheit; and the mean of the thermometer is ascertained to be 45 deg. 4 min.; winter, 34 deg. 7 min, summer, 56 deg. 7 min.

"Taking it, then, as a whole, the country of Russian America cannot be considered, as some would have it, a dreary waste of glaciers, icebergs, white bears and walrus, and only fit for the Esquimaux and drinkers of train oil.

"One more article of commerce must not be lost sight of—that is, ice. On the islands there are many fresh water lakes which afford an inexhaustible supply of very pure ice. The trade in ice so far has been conducted either by the Russian-American Company or under their permit, consequently the ice trade has not been developed to any great extent. The trade in the hands of Americans would soon grow to wonderful proportions, for the reason that these lakes in Russian America supply the only ice suitable for shipment on the Pacific north of the equator. I did not mention in order, when speaking of the fisheries, that all the way north from Codiac to the Arctic, whales are found in great abundance. Codiac and Bristol bay are all whaling grounds, and many a New England town owes its wealth to the large catch of whales in Russian American waters. Walrus are as plentiful in and about Behring's Strait as blackberries are with us in August. With American fishing settlements along the coast, the ivory and oil of these walrus will become no small source of wealth to our enterprising fishermen."

Professor Horace Bushnell, of Hartford, writes:

"The climate is not what many will be likely to suppose, for there is a kind of Gulf Stream that sweeps along the front of Eastern Asia, striking directly over upon this coast, and raising the temperature twenty or thirty degrees, in the same manner as our own Gulf Stream raises the temperature of Western Europe. The climate, I think, is scarcely more severe than that of Scotland. Of course there will be much the same chance of production—at least in the southern portions of the territory.

"We have a very important whale-fishery clear round the coast of the territory, and also a new, very important, cod-fishery on the southern coast of it, which is to be, in fact, the great fishery of the Pacific Ocean; and there is an abundance of harbors on the coast, in some one or more of which our ships can rendezvous and find protection, and also a market, finally, for the exchange of their products."

MR. W. MILLER SAYS:

PITTSBURGH, September 4, 1866.

MESSRS. HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.—Gents: I think I am only doing the part of a good citizen when I testify to the great benefits received by me from the use of your Stomach Bitters during the last five years. Sojourning for a time in the oil regions, in 1861, I had a severe bilious attack, which, in connection with dyspepsia, left me in a very weak condition. I was advised to try your Bitters, and, having procured a bottle, found that they worked like a charm upon me, eight pounds having been added to my weight in the space of one week, and new life seemed to have been infused into my system, so much so that I have been induced to use them every summer since that time. As a tonic, I think they are invaluable.

This summer, having had a similar attack, (and as before, much reduced,) although under the treatment of an A No. 1 physician, I was again obliged to have recourse to the old Bitters, and with the same good result, having gained six pounds within a few days. I purchased a half dozen bottles a few weeks since, and purpose to use them regularly as a tonic.

Wishing you every success, I remain,
Yours, gratefully,
WILLIAM MILLER.

PINUS ABIES, OR CANADA PINE.

There exudes from the inside bark of the White Pine, which grows abundantly in all the Eastern States and Canada, a honey-like, sweet substance, highly imbued with that terebinthinate principle which has long been valued as a remedy, in various diseases of the human system, especially those of the mucuous tissues. Dr. G. W. Sweet, of Boston, has compounded from this material a medicine called POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND; which has met with great favor in those maladies where the turpentines and balsams are supposed to be valuable.

For Gravelly Affections.
Diabetes in young or middle aged people.
Diabetes in old people.
Stoppage of the urine.
The same difficulty in children during the night.
Gravel, Kidney Trouble in old people.
Ulcerated Kidneys, Ulcerated Bladder.
Discharge of mucus, or pus, or blood from the bladder.
Bright's Disease of the Kidneys.
Pain in the Kidneys or small of the back.
Pain in the Bladder, Heat and Scalding, &c.,

Poland's White Pine Compound will be found speedy and permanent cure. It is no less to be valued as a general and bracing constitutional tonic, which imparts its health-giving principles to all the tissues of the body, without sickening or weakening the system in any way, or disturbing any one in his usual avocations.

CONSUMPTION!

It would take a man a lifetime to read the treatises that have been written upon this important subject, and if a sick man were to attempt it he would make himself worse by the reading, and die before he got half through. The symptoms of the disease are, hacking cough, expectoration of matter or pus, pain in one or both lungs, chilliness, burning in the palms of the hands and soles of the feet, exhausting day or night sweats, hectic fever, wasting of flesh or marasmus, sometimes expectoration of blood. These are the usual outward symptoms apparent not only to the observing physician, but to the patient's friends. There are, however, more important symptoms than these, which are only made manifest by auscultation and percussion, terms which mean, in a medical sense, thumping and listening, and they are employed outwardly in order to ascertain what is going on inside of the cavity of the chest. The signs or symptoms elicited in this way are almost sure to demonstrate the true and exact condition of the respiratory organs. A perfect auscultator can not fail in ascertaining whether the Lungs are acting naturally or not. Hence it is the best method of examining the lungs. Their actual condition once discovered, the appropriate treatment is more rapidly arrived at, and every diseased part more completely under the influence of appropriate remedies. We have long been of the opinion that consumption or decay, or wasting of the bodily strength, was dependent on a depraved state of the blood, which carries, in its course, tuberculous matter, and deposits it in the lungs, or elsewhere in the body, just as calculi or stone is deposited in the bladder, a small particle of which attracts other particles, until it becomes of such offense to the natural functions as to bring on inflammatory action, which action, if it could, would carry it out of the system, and which could have been easily done in the beginning of such disease. Dr. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP is a complete and perfect cure in the forming stage of lung disease. It acts on the very principle we have stated above, by enabling the securing or carrying off organs to do a double share of work. Waste and repair are easily comprehended, and if the worn out material be carried off, and the renewing material of a proper character, there must be health and ease, the contrary of sickness and dis-ease. In many cases of consumption which have become settled, Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup fails to cure, although it will do good in nearly all. He prepares a medicine called LUNG CURE or PULMONARY RESTORATIVE, which is a great tonic, and strengthens and restores the parts to be renewed, while it dissolves and carries out from the body those particles of worn out or extraneous matter, which only tend to clog or destroy it, by hindering the renewing material being deposited in its proper place.

PULMONARY CONSUMPTION, RESULTING FROM PLEURISY, CURED.

Statement of George Ford, carpenter, of No. 16 Sampson street, Allegheny City:

I took a violent attack of pleurisy, in May 1866, which left me with a cough lasting all summer, wearing away my strength and gradually undermining my health. During this attack of pleurisy I had several physicians of the highest reputation in the city. After I had partially recovered from the pleurisy, I was advised to go into the country, which I did, and when there I called in a doctor, who told me my left lung was affected, and that if something were not done soon I would die of CONSUMPTION. I lingered on from this time until about the middle of June, my cough and lung disease gradually growing worse, and I weaker every day, and almost despairing of ever getting well. In this state of despondency, and knowing the general belief of the incurability of Consumption, and having heard of cures made by DR. KEYSER, and seeing his advertisement in the newspapers, I was induced in October last to call on the Doctor at his office, 120 Penn street, and had him examine my lungs with his "LUNG SOUND." He told me the upper lobe of my left lung was very much diseased, but he thought with great care and the perseverance in the use of his medicines I would get well. At the time I called on Dr. Keyser my pulse was over one hundred and thirty beats in a minute, and I was generally prostrated, and had to cough night and day. I commenced the Doctor's treatment in October, with a feeble, broken constitution, and continued it faithfully until the present time. The Doctor's medicines helped me from the very start, and I could gradually feel myself getting stronger, and my cough and expectoration lessening. I have gained greatly in flesh, and consider myself well; all the rattling of my lung has ceased, and my general health is in every way good. All my relatives and friends know of the advanced stage of my disease and my extraordinary recovery. One of the medicines given me by Dr. Keyser was a medicine called LUNG CURE, which I took in connection with the other treatment. GEORGE FORD.

PITTSBURGH, March 30, 1867.

ANOTHER CURE OF CONSUMPTION.

STATEMENT OF JOHN G. WIGHAM, OF TURTLE CREEK, ALLEGHENY COUNTY.

I was discharged from the United States army in January, 1866, on account of a wound in the head, from a shell, and a disease which the army physicians pronounced CONSUMPTION. I had a terrible cough and fell away in strength and flesh and was unable to do anything. Shortly after my return from the army, I made application to a physician of my neighborhood and, afterwards, to another in Pittsburgh of high reputation, whose remedies I used faithfully for five months, without any benefit whatever, but rather grew worse, and wasted in flesh and strength every day. In August, 1866, my mother took me to DOCTOR KEYSER, of 120 Penn street, whose skill in lung cases like mine had been highly spoken of, and put myself under his treatment. The Doctor examined my lungs very carefully with his LUNG SOUND, and told me that my left lung was badly diseased at the upper part, but if I was careful he thought he could cure me by following his directions closely, which I did from that day to this. I gradually improved under Dr. Keyser's medicines from the first week I commenced to take them, and my general health has improved, and my chest, where it was sunken away, and where it pained me, has become full and strong and free from pain. I can now do a full day's work, and take great pleasure in giving my testimony in favor of Dr. Keyser's treatment and medicines.

JOHN G. WIGHAM,
Turtle Creek.

PITTSBURGH, April 11th, 1867.

A case of five years' standing cured by DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP:

DR. KEYSER:—My wife has been afflicted with a cough and difficulty of breathing for five or six years, which, for several years back, had gradually increased in violence. The complaint has been hereditary, and she had been treated by several physicians without any relief. In this state of her case I procured some of your PECTORAL COUGH SYRUP. I bought the first time a fifty cent bottle, which relieved her very much; I then called and got a dollar bottle, which cured her entirely, and she has now no trace of the former disease, except weakness. I would also state that I used the medicine myself to a cold and cough. The medicine cured me by taking one dose. I express my entire satisfaction with the medicine, and you are at liberty to publish this if you desire to do so.

WM. WILSON,
Alderman, Fifth Ward.

Our son, JAMES PAINTER, some three years of age was afflicted with consumption of the lungs, for which he was discharged from the army. He was examined by four army physicians, who all agreed that he must die with the disease. We brought him to Dr. KEYSER, 140 Wood street, (now 120 Penn street,) who, after sounding his lungs, commenced to treat him, and cured him sound and well. He is now well and has been so for the past three years. Others afflicted in like manner can likewise be cured.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

[Special Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, April 9, 1867.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—I have often thought it a little strange that Mr. Ashley, of Ohio, should have attained a place of some command and influence in a Congress so able as the Thirty-ninth. I take him to be a "clever fellow" as the world goes, but he is certainly not a man of great mental parts. He has a round chubby face, looking out of a vast roll of hair, carefully, and I might say, intellectually disarranged. If, like Samson's, his strength lay in the abundance of his hair, then indeed the House might take counsel of him, how to overturn the strong holds of the enemy. Morrissey would be in the vocative after "one round." All the foxes of Johnson, the Executive, would be only as were the three hundred which the son of Manoah took and "set tail to tail with a fire brand in the midst between two tails."

Mr. Ashley is a fat man, with more oil than blood in him. Judging from such efforts of oratory as I have chanced to hear from him on the floor of the House, his mind is of the same character and quality. He is, indeed, a fluent speaker, but his powers of analysis are far from effective. He scales all around his subject as a bird on the wing eyes a cornfield in which the scare-crow warns of danger. He is a man of loud voice and abundant action, not only on the floor of the House, but elsewhere. I never could understand why he should have been selected—if, indeed, any one was selected—to make the pronunciamento against the President, charging him with high crimes and misdemeanors, and impeaching him therefor. The impression on the public mind was that, having gone thus far, he would be an active agent in bringing forward or arranging the proof. That, however, was devolved on far abler men—those constituting the Judiciary Committee, among whom is that orator, jurist and scholar from your own county, Hon. Thomas Williams.

I am not to be understood as casting the slightest imputation upon the fidelity and honesty of Mr. Ashley. Far from it. In that regard he stands unimpeached. Intellectually he has, in my opinion, twenty superiors on the floor of the Fortieth Congress.

Now as to the impeachment question, no more important one could of course have been brought forward. It is a matter of common and well founded rumor that in many things the President has acted contrary to law; that he has not taken care faithfully to execute them as he is sworn to; that many of the worst enemies of the Republic have found a friend in him, and many of its best friends an enemy. The point is to show these charges to the satisfaction of the jury; to trace the individual and specific acts complained of to his Excellency's door, in such a snug way that he cannot lay it anywhere else.

Now, my indictment of him takes a different form. I impeach him before a competent tribunal of demoralizing the public mind. That, under certain restrictions, he holds in his hands the appointing power there can be no doubt. He is clearly responsible to the people for the proper exercise of it. How he has used it, you may ask of all communities under the flag of the nation! Do you think he cared whether or not he acted well or wisely in his appointments for office in your community, for example? Do you think the men, who for the time, have the principal influence in Federal appointments, in Pittsburgh, are such as you would cheerfully confide your own personal business interests to? I speak thus without knowing what your own opinions may be, or that in this regard it is worse with you than elsewhere. And that is in fine the fact to which I would direct attention, that over the broad expanse of the Republic the same sort of appointments have been made as were made a good while ago in your city. The modified condition of things by which the "dead lock" was broken is not much better, if not worse than the pure "copper" basis on which the late Senator Cowan pledged himself to "run the machine" in Pennsylvania; for what more lamentable fact in the history of the times than that men go up in pairs to the official shambles and agree to "call dog's meat mutton" for the sake of the garbage! This is the very carnival of demoralization. A premium is offered to such as will trade for office as for rags or pelts. They must agree to have Tom or Dick for "subs" if they are made "bosses;" they bring witnesses before the White House "bar of trial" to prove on the one side that they have never been "offensive" in their radicalism, and on the other that they shot "Yanks" upon compulsion; that they didn't kill any more "niggers" in New Orleans than they could conveniently help; that it had hurt their feelings to read of the stern way in which Southern rights had been vindicated at Andersonville, etc. The two having thus drawn together in a harmonious fellowship of contempt; each having rolled in the filth till there is no distinguishing mark of dirt, both having become in the words of Junius, "infamous and contented," they are now deemed eminently fit for office. Both having shown themselves venal and sworn to such a condition of moral turpitude as would at once exclude them from any place of trust in your counting room or for any employment about your building, unless it might be as a scavenger, they feel assured they will be deemed in the present "piping times," eminently fit for public office; for collecting Postal and Internal Revenue; for managing the affairs of State, and doing and directing all manner of important business which Mr. Lincoln used to ask honest men to attend to.

Now, while I do not know that this could be considered an impeachable offense, it appears to me one of the most lamentable features of the present crisis. Of course, in a State where modern nutmegs have been so long an article of commerce, as in Connecticut, you could not expect much other than we have; but that an administration should be run, in this country, on the principle that all men, out of Connecticut as well as in, have their price—the motto of Shaftsbury, who lived in an age of misrule, and who, like the unjust judge, boasted that he neither feared God nor regarded man—this is a spectacle of sorrow, indeed. It is the time for every honest, fearless press to speak out in unstinted condemnation, and though no legal tribunal is established under which the author and promoter of all this venality may be brought to justice for this perpetual assault upon the public morality, you may put a whip in the hand of every honest man

"To lash the rascal naked thro' the world."

RADICAL.

THE HON. JAMES A. BAYARD, who has just been appointed by the Governor of Delaware to fill the vacancy in the United States Senate, caused by the death of Mr. Riddle, has already served thirteen years in the Senate, and it is a curious coincidence that it was to fill a vacancy caused by his resignation that Mr. Riddle was appointed in 1864. His father, James A. Bayard, was a Pennsylvanian by birth, but a resident of Delaware, representing that State in Congress from 1797 to 1801, and in the Senate from 1804 to 1813. He was appointed Minister to France in 1801, and was afterward Commissioner to negotiate the treaty of Ghent. The present Senator was born in Delaware, and graduated at Princeton College. He is a lawyer by profession, and resides in Wilmington. In 1851 he was elected Senator, and was rechosen in 1857, and 1863. After the resolution offered by Mr. Sumner, on the 18th of December, 1863, requiring Senators to take the test oath prescribed by the act of July 17, 1862, was carried, Mr. Bayard resigned his seat on the 28th of January, 1864, and in the course of his farewell address took occasion to review briefly his political career; to reiterate his opinion that a peaceable separation between the North and South would have been preferable to war; to denounce the "military despotism" which oppressed his native state, and to warn the American people of the approaching loss of their liberties. Before leaving the Senate, he took the obnoxious oath, notwithstanding which, his tendencies are all toward disloyalty. Personally, Mr. Bayard is an accomplished gentleman, whose ruling passion is novel reading; but he is not a man of great force of character or mental activity, and his return to political life will probably make no very marked change in the course of the national destinies.

The New German Empire—The Feeling in France.

It is remarked as strange that the Moniteur should continue to pass over in silence the treaties of alliance between Prussia and the Southern German States, the news of which produced so much effect here. The Temps declares for the second or third time, that "the German Empire is made;" that M. Bismarck limits France from Longwy to Bale; that, as the ally of Italy and protector of Belgium, the new master of Germany is more powerful than Charles V. ever was, for though he does not possess Spain, he possesses the alliance of a power unknown in the sixteenth century—Russia, now grown formidable; and that he has not to dread one of the allies of Francis I. Turkey. "Such is the neighbor," it says, "that the affair of the Duchies has created for us." It sees in this danger to France a danger to liberty. A few days ago an amendment, which purported to reserve political liberty in the constitution, was lost in the Berlin Parliament, and it is evident that a great military and arbitrary monarchy is now installed in Central Europe. The Temps says: To conjure this double danger France is called upon to double the number of her soldiers. She is told that the influence of a nation is measured by the number of men it has under arms. But it must not be forgotten that the danger is immediate; that the King already disposes of populations more numerous than ours; and that Prussia has the advantage over us both in military organization and in armament. Is, then, France sufficiently preserved by her projected military institution, which the Minister of State himself admits can only produce results in six or seven years! To a rival so formidable as Prussia, is it not necessary to oppose alliances or principles!

Alliances, it adds, France has none; and as for principles, the only thing she has to do is to revert, promptly and sincerely, to those of the French Revolution.—Paris (March 25) Correspondence London Times.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, April 12, 1867.

The New York stock quotations to-day as received by Mr. P. R. Mertz, were as follows: Gold, 137; Eighty-one bonds, 109; Five Twenties, 1862, 109¼; do, 1864, 107⅞; Five Twenties, 1865, 108⅛; Ten Forties, 97⅞; Seven Thirties, 106; do 2d and 3d issue, 105⅝; 5-20 Consols, '65, 107¼. Michigan Southern Railroad, 68⅛; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 68½; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, 91⅛; Erie, 55¼; Chicago and Rock Island, —; Chicago and Northwestern, 32½ do preferred, 59⅝; New York Central, 99⅝; Reading, 98¾.

The gold market is unsettled. It opened strong at 137, declined to 136, but advanced suddenly to 137½. Government securities have improved, and 5-20s of 1862 are ¼ better; 1864, 1⅛; 1865, ⅛. Seven Thirties steady, there being more demand for temporary investment. Railroad shares are strong without any activity. The Northwestern shares, Fort Wayne and Erie, are the strongest on the list, but the uncertainty in the European market keeps everything in suspense. The boldest men on the bull side lack courage to take hold of any stocks, and only operate on small margins. The Government keeps on selling small amounts of gold every day, and thus prevents parties from buying up in order to run up the premium. The war panic in Europe caused a considerable withdrawal of specie from the banks.

—The Directors of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad Company have determined to call a meeting of shareholders to consider the propriety of making an issue of stock to represent a large amount of earnings used in construction. The property, from an exclusive use of earnings in construction, is stated to be in fine condition, and able to earn in future regular dividends upon the old and proposed new shares. It is out of debt, and its friends are sanguine of regular dividends now that it is operating for itself, and not with a view of consolidation with another line.

—A big lumber sale has recently been made in the Pennsylvania oil region by Frederick A. Howe & Co., of Meadville, who have sold an immense lumber property in Forest and Warren counties to the Pittsburgh and Forest County Lumber Company for two hundred thousand dollars. Mr. Howe retains a large interest in the new company. This is the largest real estate sale that has lately been made in the neighborhood of the oil region. The lands are on the Tionesta, and are covered with the finest pine, hemlock, oak, and other valuable timber, and mills are now actively engaged in getting out the lumber for market.

—The Chicago Tribune, of Thursday, says: Our local money market presents no features different from those noted yesterday. The demand for loans on speculative account was again quite active, though in a measure checked by the reaction in the grain markets. The demand in a legitimate way is fairly active, though consisting largely of renewals. For speculative paper the market is quite close, and many borrowers of this stripe are forced to seek the street. The market for other signatures is quite easy. The rates of interest, both at bank and in the open market, are unchanged.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, April 12, 1867.

The rapid advance in Flour and Grain within the last week or two has brought about a feeling of apprehension, and fears are now apprehended, and that there will be a "tumble" sooner or later, is almost certain. That the present excitement and extreme prices are the result of speculation, or what might be more appropriately termed "gambling," is generally conceded, and the reaction, when it does set in, will be as rapid as the advance, and if sufferers there must be, it is to be hoped that it will come on those who have been instrumental in bringing about the present excited and inflated condition of the market, though, unfortunately, generally, the innocent have to suffer as well as the guilty.

GRAIN—There were no operations in Wheat to-day, at least we have no sales reported. Oats considerably excited, scarce and higher. We now quote at 63 to 65, on track, and 68 to 70, in store. Prime Yellow Corn (shelled) is in demand at $1, and there is but little offering—may be quoted at $1,10 @1,12, in store. Rye is wanted at $1,50, and but little offering. Barley is firm and in demand, but prices are too irregular to quote correctly.

FLOUR—Is firm and in moderate demand but unchanged—the extreme prices has a tendency to make buyers take hold very sparingly. We continue to quote at $14¼ to $14¾ for good to choice Spring Wheat; $15¼ to $16 for Winter Wheat; and $18 to $19 for fancy St. Louis brands.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet but firm at 10 for Shoulders; 11¾c to 12c for Ribbed Sides; 16c for Plain Sugar Cured, and 17c for Canvassed Sugar Cured Hams. Lard is selling at 13c to 13¼c, and Mess Pork, $23¼.

BROOMS—(Reported by E. B. Mathews, Broom manufacturer, No. 325 Liberty street) No. 1 Fancy Hurl, $4,50 per dozen; No. 2, $4; No. 3, $3,50; No. 4, $3. No. 1 Stalk Braded, $4; No. 2, $3,50; No. 3, $2,50; No. 4, (common) $2. Broom Brush—prime, $250 per ton; No. 1, $2; No. 2, $140; No. 3, $1.

SEEDS—Cloverseed is scarce and higher, and we can report sales, in store, at $13,50 to $14. Timothy Seed is quiet and unchanged at $3 to $3,25. Flaxseed is in demand at $3—offerings light.

BUTTER—The arrivals are increasing, and the market is less active, with a drooping tendency, though, as yet, without quotable change. We continue to quote prime to choice Roll at 35 to 38.

EGGS—Steady with a demand equal to the supply, and we can report regular sales at 23c to 24c.

POTATOES—The arrivals are increasing, but the demand seems to keep pace with the supply, and prime Peach Blows are selling in store, at 95c to $1 per bush.

GREEN APPLES—Quiet and unchanged—receipts increasing. We continue to quote at $5 to $6 per bbl.

HAY—Prime Timothy Hay is firmer, and may be quoted at $26 to $27.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, April 12, 1867.

CRUDE—The market is quiet but steady, and prices remain unchanged at 6¾ to 7c. Sale of 900 bbls "Horse Creek" (40 gravity) at 6¾; 900 "Franklin" at 7; 300 at 11¾, bbls included, free on board cars, and 150 at 6¾, bbls to be returned. The fact that holders are reported firm at $2,35 to $2,40 at Oil City, has a tendency to stiffen holders here, and our market may be quoted firm, with 6¾ offered, and 7c asked. There is some inquiry for future delivery, but sellers do not seem inclined to contract ahead at present prices. The demand for forward delivery comes from tank men, who are a little apprehensive that there might be an advance about the time they have their tanks ready to fill, and to use a common but not very elegant phrase, they want to "make a sure thing of it."

REFINED—There is a continued fair demand for bonded oil, mainly for the late summer months, but the extreme views of refiners has a tendency to retard operations. We can report a sale of 2500 barrels, prime light straw to white, at 21½, on board cars here—500 for April, 500 May, 500 June, 500 July, and 500 August; also, 2500 barrels, standard white, delivered in Philadelphia, at 30½—500 June, 500 July, 500 August, 500 September and 500 October. There were no sales of spot oil, at least we had none reported—may be quoted at 26 for prime light straw to white delivered in Philadelphia, and 27 to 27½ for standard white.

ARRIVALS—The following arrivals of oil were reported to-day:

D. M. Edgerton	1900	Fisher & Bro	10625
W. Haldeman	1700	Mawhinney & E.	100
Total			14,325

Chicago Cattle Market.

CHICAGO, April 10.—The fresh receipts of beef cattle to-day at the Union Stock Yards are 1146 head. Entered sales, 793 head, at prices ranging from $5 to $6,25 for common cows and bulls; $6,60@7 for good butchers' shipping steers, and from $7,12½@7,40 for good shipping beeves. The market is dull and weak and prices have declined from 10 @15c on yesterday's prices. Buyers are holding off, as a general thing, on account of the liberal supplies forwarded East, unfavorable New York advices and the unsettled state of live-stock freights.

The following lots were bought for the Allegheny market: Haas bought 57 fair steers, weighing 60,780, at 6,65; also, 16 head good steers, weighing 20,600, at 7¼. C. Marks bought 16 good steers, weighing 17,940, at 7⅛. Doud bought 16 good steers, averaging 1157, at 7⅛; also, 4 head at 7.

PITTSBURGH METAL AND BLOOM MARKET—WEEKLY REVIEW.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, April 12, 1867.

The market for Metal and Blooms continues dull and neglected, with but little prospect of any immediate improvement. The indications at present for the starting up of the mills are about as remote as ever, both the puddlers and mill-owners, apparently, being determined not to yield to the other. Some few of the nail mills may start up, using Muck Bar, which is already puddled, but the bar iron mills, it is asserted most positively, will continue to remain idle until the puddlers see proper to go to work at the proposed reduction. As it now stands, the eastern mills are coming in for the great proportion of the western trade, and much of this is being diverted from Pittsburgh, and thrown directly into the hands of her competitors in the iron trade. For foundry iron, the demand, also, is very light, and our foundry men, to use a common phrase, are "doing a hand to mouth business"—buying only to supply their immediate wants. The following are the only sales we have reported.

100 tons Muck Bar	$70 00—cash

New York Financial Matters.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 12.—The money market continues easy. Gold is a little effected by the warlike news from Europe, and the effect seems to have been discounted. Napoleon's reply is awaited with interest. The market closed weak at 136⅝@136½. Governments are firm and more active; Registered '81, 109@109¼; coupons, '81, 109@[illegible]; 5-20's, registered '62 [illegible] Government '62, 109¼@109¾; do '64, [illegible]@104; Coupons, '65, 108@108⅛; August 7-30's, [illegible]@106; do '65, [illegible]; June and July, 105⅞@106¼. 106@106⅛.

At the first open board prices fell ¼@½c from street rates, and the decline was recovered at the Stock Exchange, Erie selling at 56. The whole market was strong at the second board, and lower prices made except on Pacific, which advanced to 129; Erie touched 57½ at the last open board. RIVER NEWS.

The river rose considerably yesterday, and was still swelling last evening with eleven feet in the channel by the Allegheny marks. The weather continues clear and pleasant, and very favorable for business at the levee. This rise, we believe, is mainly in the Allegheny.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—The Ida Rees leaves to-day without fail for Cincinnati and Louisville. She will take all the freight that offers up to the time of departure.

JOSEPH BROWN, Captain.

The Robt. Moore, from Portsmouth arrived about 12 o'clock on Thursday night, and cleared again last evening. There were no other arrivals. The Silver Lake did not get off until yesterday morning. The Leonora No. 2, it was thought, would get off last night for Nashville. Among other items, she has some railroad iron, which, she agreed to take up the Kanawha river, some forty miles.

The Great Republic reached St. Louis on Thursday evening, and her Pittsburgh excursionists were to have left there yesterday afternoon for home, via Chicago. The Republic, it is stated, will remain there about a week to load and make some repairs to her machinery.

The particulars in regard to the destruction by fire of the towboats Dolphin and Dick Fulton were published in the local column of the Gazette of yesterday. The Dolphin was an old boat, but was in good condition, some eight thousand dollars worth of repairs having but recently been put on her. The Fulton, also, was a very good boat, and belonged to Riddle, Coleman & Co. Both boats are complete wrecks.

The Glendale, Captain Hare, and the Lorena, Capt. Shuman, both first class boats, are filling up steadily for St. Louis, as is also the Columbia, Capt. G. W. Reed, for the Upper Mississippi.

The America, Capt. T. H. Golding, is up for New Orleans, and will be the first boat out for that point. The Importer, Captain Noss, will load in turn for St. Louis after the Lorena.

The Ezra Porter left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Wednesday, and the Sherman and Glasgow were advertised to follow on Thursday. The Bellevernon and Kenton passed Evansville on Wednesday.

The Madison Courier makes the following thrust at the Louisville papers: The Fichmond having left for New Orleans, the river columns of the Louisville Courier and Democrat are reduced one-half. We'll send another Madison-built steamer to them after a while. An old lady near the shipyards says the reporters for the Louisville papers are like chicken cocks; they crow over the work of others.

A St. Louis telegram, under date of Wednesday, says: River rising at the rate of an inch per hour. The rise in the Missouri continues. The Upper Mississippi and tributaries ere rapidly rising. A freshet is looked for above. Receipts of produce increasing. The Atlantic Line steamers Mollie Able, Luminary, Forsyth, Mississippi and Atlantic, have laid up here for want of business. Freight scarce for all points on the Missouri below St. Joseph, but passengers numerous. The St. Louis and Quincy Packet Company, a new corporation, have bought the Mollie McPike for $26,500. Mr. Cutting, of Metropolis, will build for Wm. M. McPherson, of St. Louis, the hull of a New Orleans packet; length, 284 feet, beam, 45 feet; hold, 9 feet. The new boat will have the engines of the Baltic.

A New York correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial, writing under date of Monday, says: The Commission appointed by the Secretary of the United States Treasury, not having been properly organized, will to-morrow, I think, commence business. The Guthrie American Valve is here in full force, with, as far as we can learn, a determination to push it through as the only one feasible to the public for saving life and property. We expect the Louisville delegation to-night. The delegates from St. Louis and Cincinnati are a unit, and will oppose the forcing of any particular valve, or any other patent of any person, on steamboats, but hold that the boats should make their own selection of any patent that may fill the law. Captain John A. Williamson laid over at Pittsburgh to induce Captain Beltzhoover and Captain R. C. Gray to come on and help us, but they were both so engaged that they could not leave, Captain R. C. Gray having gone into a new business of making a patent peppersauce, while Captain B. is going to Cincinnati on the steamer Dubuque. Col. Guthrie, or Fred. Douglas, thinks the delegates will not be admitted to the Convention, but if they are not, you will hear from us, as we have "come to stay." He knows if he can exclude us he can have his own way; but, rest assured, we are on the war-path.

Captain Alexander F. Temple, an old steamboatman, died at Madison, (Ind.,) on Wednesday last.

The public will doubtless remember that on the morning of the 23d of February, 1866, the C. E. Hillman and Nannie Byers collided near Madison, Indiana, by which the latter boat, while descending, was sunk and proved a total loss. Her owners at once instituted suit for damages, and the case has been pending until a few days ago, when the owners of the Hillman compromised the matter by paying the owners of Nannie Byers $18,500, and the suit was dismissed at defendant's cost.

The Cincinnati Commercial, of Thursday, says: Capt. Chas. Beers left for Pittsburgh in last night's train to take command of the little Peerless, destined for Missouri River.

The Ruth last trip, run from Memphis to Cairo in 19 hours and 20 minutes. The Longworth made the trip from New Orleans to Louisville in six days and ten hours, which is rather lively running. The Nick gave the brag Mollie Able a heavy run, as she was crowding her all the way from New Orleans to Cairo. The Longworth is no slow coach.

It is thought the Mercury can be raised as soon as the river falls. She now lies in fifty feet water in Arkansas Cut-off. Some forty-two bales of cotton have been saved from the wreck, and 160 bales are still on board.
